

TABLE 3.1 Worksheet for Recording Ideas for Curriculum PlanELEMENT*YOUR GENERAL GOALS

In general terms, what are you trying to achieve with these learners?

You will fill in this section in Activity 3A.

DESCRIPTION OF YOUR LEARNERS

Include their age and/or grade level, and other relevant information such as their interests, future goals, and background.

You will fill in this section in Activity 3B.

DESCRIPTION OF YOUR SUBJECT MATTER

What subjects, topics, or issues are at the center of this curriculum web?

You will fill in this section in Activity 3C.

DETAILED LEARNING OBJECTIVES

List your desired outcomes in terms of changes in the learners' knowledge, skills, and attitudes.

You will fill in this section in Activity 3D.

EXPECTED PREREQUISITES

What relevant knowledge, skills, and attitudes do you expect your learners to have before they begin using this curriculum web?

You will fill in this section in Activity 3E.

AIM

In a short sentence or phrase, describe what you want to teach to whom.

You will fill in this section in Activity 3F.

RATIONALE

Justify the use of time or other resources to achieve the aim written above. Why should these learners reach your objectives?

You will fill in this section in Activity 3G.

Printable and editable versions of this worksheet are available at curriculumwebs.com.

we plan and then implement our plan for achieving any given ends, we will often modify our ends in light of what we continue to learn about our subject matter, students, or the context in which we are teaching. Therefore, we cannot forget about ends as we plan the means to attain them; rather, we will continually alter both ends and means as we pursue our evolving goals in the light of changing circumstances.